

1. 15
2. male
3. 28 years old
4. Baku, Azerbaijan
5. Baku, Azerbaijan
6. Azerbaijan and Turkey
7. Internet
8. 4-5 times per a year
9. Azerbaijani speaking

Summary

Part I

Political stability and protection of fundamental rights are more important for me because, this is not mentioned in our constitution.

In general, cleaning of towns/cities is done by different agencies in different countries. For instance, this work is done by municipalities or local communities in Europe; but this method cannot work in Azerbaijan.

Of course, women should have right of abortion. but, selective abortion should be banned.

There are refugees from Chechnya in Azerbaijan. And, Azerbaijan also have its own refugees and IDPs in the countries. If, the government can manage to provide better life for them, then, YES, Azerbaijan should receive new refugees and migrants from other countries.

According to the constitution, education rights of ethnic minorities in their native language is indicated as a fundamental right. But, implementation of this right depends on the ethnic minorities themselves. It is not right to make it mandatory curriculum of the state program. But, there are some are some universities that teach French, English and so on. If there is a need and motivation, why not.

Ethnic and cultural diversity can not be a threat as far as is not used as a political power or tool. For instance, there are numbers of ethnicities in US, which is very beautiful thing. Even ethnic diversity in Azerbaijan does not cause any problem.

It depends on the political structure of the government. Conservatives prefer to help economy and government; liberals prefer people and society. Personally, I am a conservative; that's why, I think that as much as economy gets stronger, then it will also positively impact people and society. Economic crisis proves that the government should partially control the economy.

Part II

I have mono identity. I only consider myself as a citizen of Azerbaijan because, I was born in Azerbaijan and promote Azerbaijan in different countries.

From my point of view, religion is for controlling people. It is also same in mono-religions. Unfortunately, religion has been used for some goals. As far as religion is not politicized, it might be good, but whenever it promotes radicalization, then that tendency should be blocked.

In general, nation is a group of people living in a geographical area. Those different group of people is gathered under one title.

Of course, physical borders are very important, nowadays. Poor and rich people couldn't be differentiated, if we couldn't have borders. It is important for states, not for me. It helps to control some people as well as stop "unwelcomed guests".

I support having internet and social networks. It helps us to get some information that are our rights. We know that the most knowledgeable person is who takes trips to different parts of the world. I mean, of course, globalization has negative and positive things that I would like to mention positive ones. Internet only is very good tool for people to develop themselves.

The restoration of historical borders is driven from from international law and its principles for Azerbaijan. Human is for land for a Turkish people. I consider restoration of historical border as a restoration of JUSTICE. But, it depends on which way we can use. If peaceful means are selected, then first two options are rights one; if war is preferred, then it will cause war and bloodsheds. Peace always comes after war.

Part III

Whenever, this conflict was taken to the UN, then international actors got involved which resulted with emergence of different interests. Resolution of conflict would disable some third countries to lose their leverage in the region. Another reason is Armenia that is not interested to solve this conflict.

As an Azerbaijani, I consider Armenia is the first to blame because of failure of the resolution of the conflict. In fact, Armenia doesn't respect negotiation process. Whenever, they accepted new Madrid Principles, then it was not welcomed in the country which resulted with capture of police station in Armenia. This shows that they don't want to return back the territories they have invaded. There is invasion, but not invader...it is so ridiculous. International organizations, and other countries should recognize Armenia as a invader and pressure Yerevan to return back the territories of Azerbaijan.

Even Pope in Rome visited Azerbaijan and pushed Azerbaijan to recognize independence of the Nagorno-Karabakh. Our president also made public that we are forced to do it. Even, some countries including US support the non-recognized Nagorno-Karabakh. It is absurd to talk about democracy and also behave like this. Azerbaijan has suggested to provide highest status to the Nagorno-Karabakh that none of European countries would do.

If the conflict gets resolved in peaceful way, Azerbaijan will support its Armenian and Azerbaijani citizens with financial and humanitarian aid. All they need will be provided as will support to keep alive interim-status. But, if this happens through war, losing party will Armenians. First, they would be withdrawing automatically; and those people would go to Armenia that will deprived from such benefits that Azerbaijan could do it. Of course, Azerbaijan also will have losses; but, they will loose double times.

If Armenians and Azerbaijan can live together with each other in Georgia or Russia, why they cannot do it in Armenia.

I don't think, you can find anybody in Azerbaijan that calls Armenians as enemy. Our biggest enemy of Azerbaijan is Armenia, which is not interested to solve the conflict.

Nagorno-Karabakh has been part of Azerbaijan during all periods of the history. And, Armenians had had intentions to capture it. Historically, Armenians always captured different parts of Interview #01 | 10/15/2016 | Duration: 43 mins 37 sec.

Azerbaijan, like Zengezur, Yerevan. Since, Nagorno-Karabakh located within the territory of Azerbaijan once again proves that it belongs to Azerbaijan. Even meaning of Karabakh, Artash are Turkish words.

Of course, responsibility is on Azerbaijan because status-quo is not satisfactory for Azerbaijan. Azerbaijan is interested to solve the conflict. But, Russia is the main actor to solve it. Azerbaijan and Russia should put more initiatives on this mission.

Aland Island is taken as a precedent. Only difference of these two conflict was that there was not any war between Finland and Sweden. But, I think that there is not resolved precedent conflict to be applied for the Nagorno-Karabakh.