Part I

The most important thing is freedom. The other concepts are just backstage for this one. The meaning of freedom is freedom on the state level, it means to live in the independent and sovereign country.

The government should not be directly responsible for the cleaning of the city. Relevant officials should carry responsibilities for maintaining cleanliness in public places and streets along with the population of the city.

Personal attitude to the question of abortion is negative which is based on religion beliefs and the concepts of humanity. Abortions should not be allowed.

Azerbaijan is not ready to accept migrants as the country itself is in the state of war and has its own internal displaced persons whom the government should take care of.

Ethnic minorities shall have the right to preserve their culture and traditions. However, one should take into consideration that on the one hand, Azerbaijan is a small country, and on the other, there are a lot of ethnic minorities within our borders. In this case one and common state language - Azeri language is necessary in order to prevent tendencies for separatism. Cultural diversity presents by itself a threat for the territorial integrity.

By making contributions into the development of economy, scientific and education systems of the country one makes a great input into the improvement of the living conditions of the citizens of this country.

Part II

The answer to this question depends from the perspective from which the question is being asked. If it is about my professional specialization – then I will answer that I am a doctor. If it is regarding my political conviction, then the answer is that I am a nationalist, pan-turkist . If the question is based on religious aspect – then I am a Muslim. But, primarily, I am an Azeri Turk.

Unfortunately, in our days religious is used for negative purposes. Religious belief of every person is something intimate, it should be expressed in the form of an inner dialogue between the person and Allah. Even Ataturk once stated that religion and politics should not be mixed up.

First of all, language forms nation. If language of a nation becomes extinct than this nation itself is doomed to die out

Borders are significant and they should be delineated.

On the other hand, it is good that internet and social networks help people to overcome national borders. Thus we can maintain connections with all Turks all over the world.

Restoration of historical borders should be conducted. The idea of integral Azerbaijan encompasses in itself reunification of all historical territories.

Part III

The first and the biggest impediment for resolving the Nagorno-Karabakh problem is the Russian Federation. The second negative aspect is that our nation does not grasp this problem to its fullest. And this is due to its indifference and forgetfulness. The war is the only solution of the Nagorno-Karabakh problem. One should not rely on International organisations for resolving this problem. Every representative of this nation, it doesn't matter where he or she lives, should realize that this conflict is our national war and with war it should be resolved. Russia should be excluded from the process of resolving this problem.

First of all, all territories, without any single exception, should be returned to Azerbaijan. Afterwards, all IDPs should return to their lands. But, without any doubts, it is totally impossible to restore previous kind and warm relationships and empathy between Arminians and Azeri people. By no means it is plausible.

Russia is our archenemy. Russia and Iran are our historical enemies.

For sure, Nagorno-Karabakh belongs to Azerbaijani people.

There is no similar conflict in the world. The Nagorno-Karabakh conflict is unique by its nature.
